

“I’ve come to singing late in life, having been told decades ago by my 4th grade teacher to get off the stage in the school auditorium because I was ‘a monotone’ and would not be allowed to sing. I never tried to sing again. It has been my lifelong wish to be able to sing. Last fall, I went into the Community School of Music and Art (in Ithaca) and asked for an evaluation by a singing teacher. I was referred to Joanna – what a stroke of good fortune! Under Joanna’s steadfast guidance, unfailing support and encouragement, continual optimism, acceptance and good humor, and most importantly, great teaching and clear communication skills, I now can sing. Thank you Joanna for this wonderful gift.” ~ Carol Miller
